The Lord, peerless is He,
hath made woman and man
to abide with each other in the closest companionship, and to be even as a single soul.

They are two helpmates, two intimate friends, who should be concerned about the welfare of each other.

If they live thus, they will pass through this world with perfect contentment, bliss, and peace of heart, and become the object of divine grace and favor
in the Kingdom of heaven.

Strive, then, to abide, heart and soul,
with each other as two doves in the nest,
for this is to be blessed in both worlds.

– Selections from the Writings of ‘Abdu’l-Baha, #92

This workbook is the result of a project that we started on our 10th anniversary holiday, and then largely forgot about until we took it out again ten years later during our 20th anniversary getaway. It began as a fun exercise for the purpose of celebrating and appreciating our time together, and as a way of thinking about what we wanted to do in the future. And as we enjoyed the process of asking each other these questions, we thought others might also find them fun and useful and so decided to share it with whoever might be interested. The questions are intended to be explored together as a couple in a light and happy spirit (ideally on a picnic, on a dinner date or over coffee at your favorite café). Please ask each other the questions and give your partner time to answer. There is no particular significance to the order of the questions so feel free to pick and choose, jump around and answer or skip questions as you wish. We hope that you enjoy the process and find yourselves closer when you put it down than when you picked it up.
